Corporate Background

Roofing Resources, Inc. (RRI) is the foremost innovator of building envelope-roof asset management for industrial and federal clients. RRI's experience and background in assisting clients to meet the federal guidelines and mandates to reduce the building energy footprints with long term sustainable design is unequalled. RRI maintains existing IDIQ contracts and teaming agreements with our federal government clients such as GSA, Dept. of Justice, Dept. of State, HUD and VA Medical Centers nationally and internationally.

RRI is proud of its record, as our team includes Mentor-Protégés with certified 8(a) Hub Zone, Service Disabled Veteran Owned Small Business, Economically Disadvantage WOB and we are founding members of the Building Science Network, and members of the Roof Consultants Institute.

Our in-house staff consists of project inspectors/monitors with infield experience averaging over 25 years. RRI has a team philosophy that has extended our capabilities to insure historic building preservation, structural integrity, building envelope energy reduction and recycling for long term sustainability.

RRI has taken the lead in roofing insulation innovation and technology with their introduction of the one inch thick R-50 value insulation system provided by R-50 Systems, LLC. This roof insulation meets GSA's mandates and has been tested by the Oak Ridge Laboratories for GSA, receiving the Green Proving Grounds approval.

Our team has the capacity and experience to support any building discipline need in a prompt expedient manner including: survey repair solution development; preparation of engineering evaluations; project scope, and unit guidance or parametric cost estimating; development of alternatives and economic analysis; utilities, access, constraints, and identification of environmental issues; development of design-build Request for Proposal packages; construction administration services including, but not limited to, responses to Requests for Information (RFIs), submittal review, consultation and inspection management during construction, and preparation of as-builts, and commissioning services. RRI has, to date, provided these disciplines to many federal and industrial clients.
